Hill Municipal Court.

TO THE SELECTMEN AND PEOPLE OF THE TOWN OF HILL:

Hill, N. H. is supposed to have a population of some over five hundred composed of a class of law abiding citizens as a whole, with exceptions very rare, and yet when this report is read we think the community will generally agree that there is not a small town in the state that has as strong justification for a Municipal Court as this town has, from the fact that there probably is not another town in the state through which so many people pass that have no regard for the law when it interferes with their plans and pleasure; and these plans generally interfere with the welfare of the town and the safety of its people.

This Court and its police officer has tried consistently and impartially to curb this tendency of law breaking by those who pass through the town, and while we have been reviled by many of the cheap publications in different parts of the country, we think results which have come and are fast coming will prove that the little town of Hill started a crusade against the killing of people by the reckless driving of automobiles, that should cause the blush of shame on the faces of those who have been abusing us with their slanderous talk and print. We must confess that we have a feeling of pride at the record of our Court as we have no disturbance cases to report.

There are laws in the state of New Hampshire sufficient to protect every person who has occasion to use the streets and highways of the state, if the selectmen of all towns and the governing boards of cities will follow the example of Hill Board of Selectmen and appoint police officers with instructions to enforce all laws in relation to the use of motor vehicles, and to be sure the Judge is loyal to his oath in dealing with those who break the laws and are brought into court; then there will be a feeling of safety as one travels our streets and highways. The breaking of one law if unpunished seems to cause a feeling of disrespect for other laws, and this is the reason for the lawlessness of the present time. When the respectable people of a community will stand by their faithful officers who try to enforce all laws there is not much fear of having disturbances.

REPORT OF THE Superintendent of Schools.

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD OF HILL:

A gradual return to more normal conditions for school work after the two preceding years of more or less interruption has characterized the work of the past year. The war with its distractions, its drives, the exorbitant cost of necessary school materials is now happily over and we may anticipate a return to normal conditions of school work in the near future. It is to be hoped however that the lessons of thrift learned and practised by the pupils of Hill together with those of every town and city may not soon be lost.

During the past year a physical examination, required by the state law, has been made of every pupil of our schools by an appointed school physician. This examination has revealed in some, cases of an unsuspected defect of vision or hearing, the presence of enlarged tonsils or of adenoids while a larger number were found to have defective teeth. Cards stating the finding of the physician were sent home to the parents and in a large majority of cases treatment which remedied the defect has been secured. Physical examinations, and treatment when necessary, guarantee that the boys and girls will grow up to be sound and healthy men and women. School examinations reveal physical defects at a time in a child's life when it can be most easily and surely remedied.

The success of a school system depends most largely upon its corp of teachers. Miss Silsby was succeeded in the Grammar School by Miss Beatrice Merrifield of Rochester, a teacher of several years experience. Miss Crosby resigned from the Center School to enter normal school and was succeeded by Miss Ellen Atkins of Danbury who had had one year's experience. The district was most fortunate in retaining Mrs. Blake in the Primary School. We are most fortunate in our present teachers and they merit the loyal support of every parent.

It was suggested that owing to the small number of pupils attending the Center School that it be closed and the pupils transported to the Village. A careful survey however showed the cost of transportation to be excessive; it revealed a decided opposition from the parents, of that section and an inability to provide for these pupils at the Village should they be transferred.

Desks have been added to the Grammar room until no more can be added and no more pupils accommodated and every seat in the Primary room is filled. The four grades in each room with the resulting sixteen to twenty classes each day give neither the teacher or pupil sufficient time for teaching or reciting. If some way could be arranged whereby one grade could be taken from each room and one year's work which is now done in the high school be carried on in the new room to be opened I believe that it would be a decidedly good investment for the town. This would save the payment of high school tuition for one year as well as relieving the congestion of each room now occupied. Whether this seems advisable and if so, how it shall be accomplished, whether by the fitting up a room in the Library building or by raising the present building as originally proposed, is for the district to decide.

Ten pupils from this town completed courses and were graduated from academies and high schools during the past year and there are now eight pupils attending near-by seminaries or high schools, each of whom has good standing in the school.

By reference to the table of attendance it will be found that the per cent of attendance is higher than that of last year while there are many less tardinesses. Each of these is highly commendable to pupils and parents and a very great help to the teachers in getting better results.

No repairs of unusual cost are anticipated for the coming year and the costs of maintenance should not require increased appropriations.

In conclusion I wish to commend the teachers for their excellent work and to thank the members of the school board for their loyal support.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE A. KEITH, Superintendent of Schools.
